WHEELING Park next Sunday afternoon and evening, Meister's Band and John A. West, the comedian.

OH, BUT IT WAS FROSTY LAST NIGHT!

The Wheeling Democracy Falls Dismally to Enthusiasm Over Bryan and Stevenson.

BARELY A CORPORAL'S GUARD

Turned Out With a Band and Two Wagons of Red Fire to Celebrate the Event.

A disappointingly frosty night was the alleged ratification of the nomination of Bryan and Stevenson by the Popularity of Wheeling last night. On all sides the affair was the subject of ridicule, not only on the part of Republicans but by many Democrats as well. As one Democrat from down in the state said to an Intelligencer man after the motley crew had passed up Market street for its wind-up, "Why, Logan Court House could get up a better demonstration than that on the slightest provocation." Republicans, of course, were delighted with the showing—or lack of showing—their Popularity brethren succeeded in making.

During the morning and afternoon, a committee of the faithful, headed by "Jim" McGee, went the rounds and raked up the "necessaries" for what they predicted would be a rousing ratification of the nomination of Bryan and Adams. The Opera House band was engaged for the occasion, and two wagon loads of red fire were purchased.

Promptly at 7:30 o'clock, the band stationed at the city hall square, began tooting for dear life in a desperate endeavor to bring forth the desired assemblage of the faithful. Fifteen minutes of Paul's loudest drumming and the cornetists' shrillest tooting brought a crowd of a hundred, of whom the majority were spectators of Republican proclivities. Hundreds of paper badges fresh from the Register press (which had run overtime on the job) were passed around, but there were only a few takers. Finally, "Jim" McGee and George Weisgerber placed themselves in advance of the band and the gang marched to the Register office, where two or three more were added to the line-up. A march to the North End and return increased the crowd of marchers to thirteen. The next stop was at the Brunswick hotel saloon, where red fire and other refreshments were taken aboard—in liberal quantities—then, with red fire lighted, the band playing and a painful lack of enthusiasm, the march down Market street and over to the South Side was on. Coming up town again, the crowd proceeded to the city hall square, and then came down Fourteenth street and kindly gave the Intelligencer a call, after which disbandment occurred.

All in all, it was about the worst that ever happened, and distinctly was not creditable to the party in whose interest it was worked. Where were the old line Democrats, like John Birch, Alfred Caldwell, Ran. Stalnaker, J. B. Somerville, Robert White and a host of others whose names have been prominent in Democratic councils? Echo answers, where!

A VIOLENT STORM

With Rain and Wind, Thunder and Lightning, Strikes Wheeling—Cathedral Steeple Damaged—German Naegle Injured.

Wheeling was visited by a most violent rain and thunder storm yesterday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock, that lasted for nearly twenty minutes. In that short period the rainfall as registered by the official government gauge at Schep's was .69 inch, which is considered a phenomenally heavy downpour. The rain, was accompanied by frequent flashes of lightning and bursts of thunder.

In five minutes Market street was a raging torrent, as were also Twelfth and Fourteenth and the other thoroughfares leading from the hillside. At the corner of Fourteenth and Main streets the sewer opening became clogged with debris, with the result that a lake of no mean proportions formed, to the delight of scores of boys who keenly enjoyed the aquatic sport until the board of public works people opened up the sewer again.

The lightning caused some damage, the most serious instance being the partial destruction of the steeple of St. Joseph's cathedral on Eoff street. A bolt struck the steeple near its apex and tore away the slate and sheeting half way down. Fortunately nobody was standing around the church at the time else there would be a tragedy to chronicle.

Over on the South Side, at the corner of Twenty-second and Eoff streets, lightning struck the tower on the residence of Peter Muhn, and partially wrecked it. Mrs. Muhn and her daughter were knocked down, but were only partially stunned and escaped injuries. Across the street a child was knocked down by the lightning's effects, but was not injured.

The storm had the effect of materially reducing the temperature, the decline from 4 to 5 p. m., being 5 degrees. The top-notch temperature of the day was 95 above, reached at 2 o'clock. At midnight the heat was still oppressive, the thermometer registering 82. The record for the day was as follows:

Hour.	Temp.	Hour.	Temp.
7 a. m.	83	5 p. m.	95
8 a. m.	83	6 p. m.	88
9 a. m.	83	7 p. m.	80
10 a. m.	82	8 p. m.	78
11 a. m.	82	9 p. m.	75
Noon	81	10 p. m.	75
1 p. m.	81	11 p. m.	75
2 p. m.	95	12 m.	81
3 p. m.	95	Midnight	83

There were no serious heat prostrations to record.

The storm came with startling rapidity, and there was a general scramble to close windows and doors. German Naegle, of 194 Sixteenth street, porter in the employ of Welty & Co., the Market street wholesale liquor dealers, rushed to the second floor of this establishment and began lowering the windows. One was refractory, but suddenly it descended with a crash, breaking the glass which came down upon Naegle's bare arms, both of which were cut in a frightful manner. Fellow employees came to the injured man's assistance, but before the arrival of a physician he had lost a great amount of blood and was very weak when taken to his home in the East End. His recovery, however, is expected.
